Program Highlights:

Inaugural Session:

The event began with a formal welcome by the Principal, Sri D. Satyanarayana, who spoke about the importance of forests in sustaining life and addressing climate change. He emphasized the need for collective efforts to ensure the protection and conservation of our forests for future generations.

Chief Guest Address:

The Chief Guest, Mr. P. Gunasekhar, Retired Health Education Officer, gave an inspiring talk on the many benefits that trees provide to human health and the environment. He discussed how trees improve air quality, help in preventing soil erosion, and contribute to mental well-being. Mr. Gunasekhar motivated students to take action towards afforestation and pledged to contribute personally to the green initiatives.

Dr. B. Venkateswarlu, Head of the DEEE Department, highlighted the importance of greenery education and the active role of the college in promoting environmental awareness. He spoke about the ongoing plantation activities at Government Polytechnic Kamalapuram, where both students and staff have been actively participating in planting trees, which contributes significantly to a greener campus.

Mr. N. Ramesh Babu, Forest Beat Officer, Kamalapuram, emphasized the crucial role of tree plantation in the fight against deforestation and the preservation of biodiversity. He discussed how the simple act of planting trees can have a long-lasting impact on the environment, encouraging students to become proactive in tree-planting activities.

Prize Distribution Ceremony:

The Mother Teresa Foundation, represented by Mr. S. Vijaya Kumar, Founder, distributed prizes to the winners of the Essay Writing Competition on the topic of Forest Protection. The competition provided an opportunity for students to express their views on the importance of protecting forests and the environment. Physical Director's Contribution:

The energy and enthusiasm of the event were heightened by Mr. S. Sunil Kumar, Lecturer in EEE and Incharge Physical Director, as well as NSS Unit Coordinator. His participation and coordination added a vibrant dynamic to the event, ensuring that all activities went smoothly and that students were motivated throughout the program.

Tree Plantation and Forest Pledge:

The event concluded with a tree plantation drive on the college campus, with the active participation of faculty and students. After the plantation, the attendees took a Forest Pledge, committing to take steps toward protecting and preserving forests. This moment served as a reminder of their responsibility to the environment and their role in ensuring the sustainability of natural resources.

Program Conclusion:

The program concluded successfully with a vote of thanks, acknowledging the contributions of the guests, speakers, and participants. B. Akhil Ahmed, Lecturer in ECE, anchored the entire program and ensured smooth transitions between different segments of the event.

Outcome:

- The celebration of International Forest Day at Government Polytechnic Kamalapuram was an overwhelming success, fostering awareness among students and faculty about the importance of forests and the environment.
- The tree plantation initiative demonstrated the commitment of the college to maintaining a greener and more sustainable campus.
- The event effectively inspired participants to take an active role in forest conservation and encouraged them to adopt eco-friendly practices in their daily lives.

Photographs and Media Coverage:

The event was covered by the local media, and several photographs were taken to document the tree plantation and other activities. These photographs will serve as a reminder of the collective efforts toward environmental preservation.
